

Course: Nonviolent Crisis Intervention® Instructor Training

Montefiore Hudson Valley Collaborative (MHVC) in collaboration with Crisis Prevention Institute proudly presents an opportunity for selected individuals to become an instructor and facilitate Nonviolent Crisis Intervention®. This is a four-day training that teaches skills for assessing, managing, and responding to risk behavior at work. The focus is on verbal de-escalation, prevention, and early intervention.

About this Training

This time-tested program gives participants an effective framework for decision making and problem solving. It also equipped with skills and confidence to champion a culture of Care, Welfare, Safety, and SecuritySM.

By the end of this training, the learner will:

- Learn the four levels of crisis development, and corresponding staff responses for each behavior level.
- Explore how nonverbal communication can positively or negatively affect an individual's behavior.
- Organize your thinking about the risks of different behaviors. Learn critical analysis and rational reasoning to make appropriate decisions about how to respond in a situation.
- Delve into verbal intervention and Empathic Listening approaches to de-escalate a situation and decelerate a person's behavior.
- Explore how to cope with fear and anxiety, and how to stimulate positive and productive responses during crisis situations.
